GERMANS ARE AHEAD AGAIN AT VERDUN

Recapture Fleury, Taken By France Last Month, at a Terrible Toll of Human Life

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, August 4.—Attacking simultaneously from the northwest and southeast, the French stormed Fleury, north of Verdun, and captured several hundred Germans. Later the Germans launched a furious counter attack, and after several violent attempts, succeeded in gaining a foothold in the south part of the village. The French continue to hold the northern section, where heavy fighting progresses.

Verdun thus again is the center of the war stage. The capture of Fleury, which the Germans held over a month, caused great elation in France. The Germans appear less capable of operating on the old overwhelming scale and initiative, and military men believe they are about to pass from France permanently.

While the German artillery continues powerful, apparently the commanders are unable to gather masses of troops necessary to reap the benefit of artillery preparation. It is twenty days since the Germans made the last big attack on the right bank of the Meuse, whereby they obtained small results at heavy cost. On the left bank nothing beyond local attacks have been attempted for a week past. The whole section from Vacherauville to the approaches of Souville gradually fell into the hands of French bombers when the higher command judged the time ripe for an attack on all sides simultaneously. The Germans offered desperate resistance, but the French bayonets finally prevailed.

(By Associated Press.)
BERLIN, August 4.—An official message says the Germans regained the village of Fleury, north of Verdun, this morning. The situation at Fleury and vicinity is now the same as prior to the French attack.

JUNIOR MINES IN GOOD SHAPE

The tenth level of the North Star is holding up well. There have been uncovered some of the finest bunches of ruby silver ever discovered in the district. One of them taken to San Francisco by Mr. Zedig created considerable interest there. The mine is shipping more than enough of this ore to pay expenses while developments are being carried forward. A comfortable balance remains in the treasury.

In the Midway the 1100 is now in what seems to be wall formation. This is a very important development, as the vein on the level above is showing itself to be nearly in the commercial class. It is the largest body of quartz that has been found in the district in years. The mineralization is spotted, but it promises to make into a lens at any time.

The Tonopah Bonanza shaft is steadily deepening. There will be no cessation of work until the 1900 is reached, unless a body of ore is cut in the shaft.

The big pumps are not yet in perfect working order in the Great Western shaft, but the water is being controlled. The mine will resume soon in the south crosscut and to explore the stringers that were found when the water crevice was cut.

While the Halifax has not yet made any appreciable increase in ore extraction, it has its workings so shaped up that it can do so at any time that mill facilities permit. Practically all the ore is now being dropped to the thirteenth intermediate. The drift is being continued on the vein on the 1217 and the eastern limit of the lens has not yet been found.

Work of constructing the new gal-lows frame over the Sandgrass shaft is about to begin. Here the Tonopah Mining company has the best known ore in its estate and the Sandgrass is expected to become a notable producer.

LIMIT TO THE TALKS WITH THE MEXICANS

Carranza Says His Delegates Will Not Discuss Anything But The Border Troubles

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Minister Arredondo today delivered a note to the State department replying to the last American note to the de facto government of Mexico, announcing the appointment of three Mexican members of the joint commission to undertake a settlement of border difficulties.

The note announcing the appointment of commissioners to the United States says they are instructed to "devote their attention preferably to a solution of the points mentioned in the previous note." The de facto government thus apparently rejects the proposal of the commission to consider other questions than the military situation, limiting the discussion to what was originally suggested by Carranza. Whether this will be satisfactory to the United States is not indicated.

Hope of an early solution of the difficulties was expressed by Arredondo, who said he expected to reach an agreement with Secy. Polk tomorrow as to the date and place of meeting, which it is said will be Old Point Comfort or Annapolis Park. He expects the Mexican commissioners to arrive in ten days.

Mexico's commissioners who will attempt to settle the border difficulties similar to the United States commission will probably travel to New York on a vessel of the Mexican navy, available at Vera Cruz. Their departure will not be long delayed.

EXTENSION IS GOING TO 1900 FEET, OR THE DEEPEST WORKINGS IN CAMP

In a subway nearly a third of a mile beneath the streets of Tonopah, a mine superintendent is holding his acetylene torch against the side of the bore. "This," he explains, "is the hanging wall of the Murray vein. It is ore the entire distance to the foot."

That instant, from beyond a curve in the crosscut, a motorman gave his warning signal and a train of ore cars came rumbling and roaring into sight, the gentle up grade being easily accomplished at high speed by the trolley locomotive.

The writer gave a hail with up-lifted hand, as anyone would at a crowded street corner, and the train came to a stop. "Are you going to the face?" queried the man at the controller lever as the power was reapplied. "No, the footwall will be far enough." The train slackened and stopped. "Footwall," called out the motorman, and the journey was over.

The distance traversed was entirely within a cross section of a vein of silver and gold. Above from the 1540 level to the 900, beneath to unexplored depths, to the east for known hundreds of feet and to the west for a distance that has not yet been measured or explored, extends this giant of all Tonopah's great veins, one that is 43 feet between the walls and every ton of its averaging around the $20 mark.

One must go into the depth of the Extension, via the Victor shaft, to get a most convincing realization that the history of the mines of Tonopah is to be "continued in our next" and that thus far the plot has hardly begun to develop.

The busiest place in the district today is at the 1540 station in the Victor shaft. Here the pumps are being enlarged in case there should be need, for no one knows when another water crevice may be cut and the subterranean reservoir drained. In order that no misadventure occur

VILE SWEAT SHOP CAUSES EPIDEMIC

BIG MAIL ORDER HOUSES ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR SPREAD OF PARALYSIS

Dr. John E. Worden, Elko county's health officer, to the Elko Independent said that the daily news of the alarming increase of the infantile paralysis epidemic which originated as usual in New York, is of vital importance to everybody in this state, because, in his opinion, after careful investigation, he is convinced that the dread disease is being scattered throughout the country through the medium of sweat shop goods sold through the big mail order houses of New York, Chicago, and other eastern cities, which have branches at Seattle and San Francisco.

"The father or mother," said Dr. Worden, "who purchases by mail a 'bargain' garment from one of these houses, may be bringing into the home one of the deadliest of dangers known to science. I would no more think of allowing a mail order purchase of that kind to come into my house than I would think of allowing a coiled rattlesnake to sleep in my child's bedroom. I wish I could describe this imminent danger in language so strong that every man and woman would be startled out of indifference and be forced to recognize the importance of this warning."
